

Cyclone Yasi

Anonymous– Ingham Community Centre QLD

"We had a few droplets of water come into the office that I cleaned up with a tissue. There was quite a build up of dirt in the south east corner so it must have been blowing up hard against the window. The corrugated sheeting above leaked like a sieve so there is water damage to our walls. The sliding doors also leaked as the water bubbled up through the drainage holes. We have security screens installed to the outside of the louvres to prevent intruders into the office. We have air conditioning installed and we use it mostly in the mornings when there is no breeze and the sun is hot against the windows or when we need to close them up to reduce outside noise coming into the hall when we are having meetings."
